Language Arts Stressed

Federal Funds To Aid Lemon Grove Schools

Three Lemon Grove School District schools will be inaugurating a new language arts program beginning in February.

The program, which has been made possible through the use of Federal funds, will start on a limited scale Feb. 7 at Lemon Grove Junior High and will be in operation at Golden Avenue and Vista La Mesa elementary schools by the end of February.

Project Committee

The Lemon Grove Language Arts Project Committee, composed of Vista La Mesa principal Mrs. Betty Higgins, Golden Avenue principal Dr. Evelyn Lauritzen and Lemon Grove Junior High principal Robert Sutton, will have $43,447 to work with to improve the instruction of disadvantaged children. Sam Solleder, assistant district superintendent, will supervise the over-all program.

The money was allocated earlier this month by the State Board of Education under the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act passed by Congress.

Language Center

Specific educational services to be initiated and maintained at the two elementary schools will be primary language centers in each primary classroom, intermediate language arts labs in each school to be used by classes on a scheduled basis, teacher aids, and in-service education for teachers along with additional clerical services.

The major objectives of the program at Vista La Mesa and Golden Avenue will be to improve the children's ability to communicate through learning language skills in reading, writing, speaking and listening.

Reading Program

At Lemon Grove Junior High, development corrective reading program will be installed for students who need assistance. Additional language arts instruction will be given to all seventh and eighth grade students to strengthen written and spoken communications.

There will also be a cultural improvement program which will emphasize music, art and drama. Both participation and appreciation will be emphasized, according to Sutton.

Other services at all three schools will include psychological help and a testing program.

Meets Provision

Byron Netzley, district superintendent, said Lemon Grove received the money because of meeting a federal requiremnt for a certain number of low income families concentrated in a set area.

He said that it is a three-year program and this is only the first year's allocation.

Dr. Lauritzen said more emphasis would be placed on speaking instead of writing at her school.

Target Date

"We have high hopes that the small amount of money will go a long way," she said. Plans call for the program to be in full swing at Golden Avenue by Easter.

"The program will improve children's ability to communicate with those around them," said Mrs. Higgins.

Approval Given

She remarked that she was especially pleased because the Lemon Grove plan was one of only two in the County to be approved by the state Board of Education without revisions. (The committee first started working on the plan last October.)

She added, "The program will be available to all children at our school although it is designed for children with special needs.

Music Purchases

Sutton said his school will use its allotment in areas where development has been stymied by various reasons.

Musical instruments may be bought for use at the Junior High and lessons given to children who otherwise would not have a chance to learn about music, according to Netzley.

Quick Start

The Junior High will get a jump on the rest of the schools by starting a remedial reading program Feb. 7.

All three schools are presently ordering materials and equipment and setting up teaching-aid programs.

Walton Asked To Resign

Victor Walton, a member of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District board of trustees was asked to resign his post at Monday night's board meeting.

Walton is one of three board members under pressure in a move for a recall election.

Requesting the resignation was Dr. Robert Briggs, president of the Community Council for Public Schools. In making the request, Dr. Briggs said his group would like to express its anxiety "concerning the widening gap of disagreement in educational philosophy between members of the board."

Briggs further pointed out that, "If you are as sincere as you contend and have the best interest of the school children at heart, "you will resign from the board."

Walton replied, "I'm sure it would simplify your problem Mr. Briggs, but the answer is no."

The board of trustees also voted to raise the price of lunches for the junior high school cafeterias in the district. The action is due to a report by Dr. Ted Dixon, associate superintendent of the LM-SV School District.

He said the district is about $10,000 short in the cafeteria fund and that much of the surplus food that was acquired before is being sent to Viet Nam. Beginning Monday, junior high students will pay 35 cents and staff members, 50 cents, a boost of 5 cents.

Monday night's meeting lasted until nearly midnight. One of the final items on the agenda was an offer by the Federal Government of about $400,000 as an aid to education in the district. The board voted to accept the money, which may take a year to acquire.

Rank And File American Is Not Apathetic Says County Under Sheriff

C. Allen Paul, Director of Technical and Vocational Education at Grossmont College, will be the guest speaker Friday noon at the Lemon Grove Men's Club meeting at Michael's Restaurant.

Paul will speak on "Planning For New Horizons" and "Occupational Preparation."

Last week's guest speaker, County under sheriff Arthur Kilcrease, gave a talk on the functions of the County Sheriffs Department.

Kilcrease told the Men's Club of a new computer system which might possibly be added to the department. The system would enable a deputy in Lemon Grove to call in on his car radio to headquarters requesting identification on a suspect.

Headquarters would in turn relay the description to the state records bureau where all information on the suspect would be sent back to San Diego and eventually to the officer. This procedure would probably take only several minutes, giving the public more efficient service.

Kilcrease also said that he felt public apathy towards police authority was restricted towards certain areas. "I feel if an officer needed assistance in Lemon Grove, he would get it."

I don't think the rank and file American is anti-police", he added.

New Membership Coffee Slated

The Lemon Grove Republican Women's Club will hold a new membership coffee Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 12 noon in the home of Mrs. Bruce Craig, 2304 Loma Dr., Lemon Grove.

Mrs. Lucy Morrow, Hostess Chairman, will be assisted in serving by members of the club. Mrs. J. F. Wyer Jr., president, is accepting reservations (463-3073).

Dawson, Thomas Chosen To Teach Special Classes

The 1966-67 school year will be an almost exact duplicate of the present one, the Lemon Grove Elementary School Board decided Monday.

School will start Sept. 15 and the last day will be June 15. There will be 177 teaching days between those dates.

The Board approved two classes for educationally handicapped children. Two classes of 11 will be offered under "good, solid teachers". Arlo Thomas of Vista La Mesa School will teach lower level grades, and James Dawson will teach junior high grades. Byron Netzley, school superintendent, said some of the students in these classes have a combination of learning and emotiional problems.

The district will acquire replacements for Dawson and Thomas from among the mid-year graduates at State.

Netzley also told the board that a grant of $8,550 from the State Department of Education had been approved. These funds will be used for library books for grades beneath junior high school level. "Eventually, we hope to establish libraries at all of our elementary schools to teach youngsters earlier how to use library facilities," Netzley said.

Madrid-Agua Dulce Apartment Zoning OK'd By Supervisors

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—County Supervisors Tuesday approved a controversial rezoning in Casa de Oro that will allow the Rick Engineering Co. to build apartments on three acres at Madrid Way and Agua Dulce Blvd.

Supervisor Henry Boney, who had blocked action last week, argued and voted against the decision. He said that the rezoning would be a spot of apartment zoning in a single-family residential neighborhood. He said a large number of protests has come from the area.

Boney had been able to block action because the absence of Supervisor Robert Dent made it impossible for the board to muster four votes necessary to rezone.

Dent said he has viewed the property and was voting for the rezone because the property is well buffered from the surroundings by a school and two churches. He said that Freeway 94 to be built to the south of the land will reduce it from six or seven acres and make it unsuitable for single residences.

Boney said that apartment zones were more properly used as buffer zones to separate single family areas from commercial areas.

Dent said, "I don't feel the people will be damaged nearly so much as they testified they think they will."

Women Voters Board To Meet

The annual advisory board luncheon of the League of Women Voters of Grossmont-Cajon Valley will be held Monday at the home of Mrs. Geri Fields, 1978 Garrison Way, El Cajon.

The advisory board is made up of local interested civic-minded business and professional people in the community to help acquaint the public with the league's purpose and to help in the planning of a finance drive.

The finance drive is scheduled for March 1. Mrs. Lily Mae Greta is chairman of that committee.

Church Members Subscribe To Paper To Spread News

Members of the Lemon Grove Church of Christ last week acknowledged that freedom of worship and freedom of the press have a "togetherness."

Deacon of the church, Brock Landess, decided the newspaper was telling the story of the church so well in the community that he wanted to make that story told even more widely.

He said the duty fell to him, a deacon, because the church is in the process of acquiring a new pastor.

So he and some members of the church, which is located at 2515 Imperial Ave. in Lemon Grove, asked members who were not getting the local newspaper to subscribe. Nineteen did immediately.

"Both the church and the newspaper are a moving force in the community," he said. "We can reach the non-church goer regularly in the press. This is one way our churches can continue to grow," he added.

This newspaper publishes a church page every week.

Your Child and Amidon

Dr. Carl F. Hansen, developer of the Amidon philosophy of basic education is in town this week at the invitation of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School Board.

The Board that was in office in June, 1965 instituted Amidon in Kempton school in Spring Valley and since then a tempest has raged in the district concerning the program.

It came to pretty much of a climax earlier this week when Mrs. Walter Ekard, president of Kempton PTA told the school board Monday night that she has about enough of it. Last year, a vocative group became the beliweather for Amidon in South Spring Valley and through its effort, some parents asked that their children be allowed to cross school boundaries in order to enjoy the fruit of an Amidon oriented education. Some others, however, asked that their progeny be removed from the influence of Amidon.

Such is the extremely light and causual background study of Amidon in our community. The deeper and darker considerations are not important for the following study, the study being only the answer to the question: What is Amidon?"

Amidon, according to Dr. Hansen, is what local educators call structured basic education.

The name Amidon comes from the Amidon district in District of Columbia where Dr. Hansen had an opportunity to put together a school which was to serve a Federal housing project. Congress dribbled along from 1953 until 1962 before funds for the project was supplied. Meanwhile, Amidon school was built. There were only 148 pupils in the school boundaries. The school was built with a capacity of 806. The housing project had an income ceiling of $4,950 and was to be predominately Negro. These conditions imply educational problems.

So when Dr. Hansen had his Amidon program under way it offered these considerations, among other.

1. On whole class teaching. He approves of grouping between classes but not grouping within classes.

2. On phonics. He approves teaching of a system of phonics at the earliest stages of reading instruction.

3. On teachers. He claims that teachers have become a functionary with every kind of responsibility but teaching.

4. On pupils. He recommends that teachers be given the authority to teach and to control the class against youthful tyranny and rebellion.

5. On readiness. He suggests that more sensitive teaching of more difficult content replace the readiness terminology.

6. On limitation. He preaches both sides of this one. He says

Read I Corinthians 9:16-23

Restore to me the joy of thy salvation, and uphold me with a willing spirit. Then I will teach transgressors thy ways, and sinners will return to thee. (Psalm 51:12 13, RSV)

Catherine Milward was the daughter of a rich English gentleman. Their household maid found a spiritual experience in a religious meeting held in a barn. She was so changed that Catherine asked questions. The humble maid witnessed to her faith in Christ and brought her mistress into contact with the minister, John Mumford.

He helped Catherine to a spiritual experience which led to her physical as well as spiritual healing. She married John Mumford. They were the parents of Catherine Mumford, who became the wife of William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army.

So a humble servingmaid, whose religion showed in her life, and who was not afraid to witness for Christ, proved to be an effective missionary for Him. Any Christian whose religion shows in his life and who takes advantage of opportunities to witness can win others, often setting in motion a chain of events that will work wonders for God.

PRAYER: Help us, O Lord, to witness for Christ by our daily life and by the words we speak. Give us the insight to know when to speak and the courage to speak. In Jesus' name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:
We can be missionaries anywhere we are by living for Christ and witnessing to Him.

Passage Included In Sunday Sermon

"Father-Mother is the name for Deity, which indicates His tender relationship to His spiritual creation," says Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, in her book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." The passage will be included in all Christian Science services this Sunday as part of the lesson on "Love."

Several Bible stories will be read, among them the conversion of Cornelius and the parable of the Good Samaritan. A correlative reading from Science and Health includes these words: "The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is that man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good.

Peter's statement—"Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him"—finds a parallel in this line from Science and Health: "Love is impartial and universal in its adaptation and bestowals."

Christmas Seal Reminders Mailed

Between 75 and 80,000 final reminders for the 59th Annual Christmas Seal campaign will go into the mail this week, Dr. Amorita Treganza, Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area chairman of the Tuberculosis and Health Association of San Diego County, reported yesterday.

Reminders are in the form of a message, over the signature of Dominic C. DiGregorio, treasurer, which says:

"It is statistically proven . . . a brief message is best! It's never too late to contribute. It's never too late to fight TB . . . every contribution helps. If you haven't already, won't you send your Christmas Seal contribution today?"

Meantime, Dr. Treganza said she understood campaign receipts now stand at $144,005.05, about $4,600 ahead of last year at this time. Total receipts last year were $147,212.83.

Although the association does not fix a goal, Dr. Treganza said it had been hoped that $165,000 could be raised to continue the local voluntary health agency's four-phase efforts against tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases: medical research, rehabilitation, case-finding, and health education.

Christmas Seal contributions are solicited by mail only, she said.

The Lord loved the church and gave Himself for it according to Acts 20:28 and Ephesians 5:25. If we really love Him we will also love His church. Plants Given 'Angels Unaware'

The Theodore Payne Foundation for Wild Flowers and Native Plants has made a gift of plants worth $75 to the Grossmont Garden Club for its landscaping project at "Angels Unaware," the East County Chapter, San Diego County Association for Retarded Children.

The non-profit Foundation is dedicated to conserving and popularizing California native flowers and plants that are not available through nurseries.

This foundation was established in 1963 to carry on the work of Theodore Payne, known nationally and internationally for his work in the propagation and distribution of California plants and seeds. Although in the early 1900's only a few wildflowers were known as garden plants, Payne brought into cultivation during the 57 years of his work 430 species of native plants and made them available for general use.

This garden is to be located at the Lexington St. entrance to the school and certain selected seeding type natives attractive to birds are planted in a large bird thicket located on the Kristie Lane side.

Double-Ring Ceremony Unites Pair

The Spring Valley Friends Community Church was the setting Jan. 15 for a double-ring ceremony which united a young Spring Valley woman and a Woodland Hills man in marriage. The bride was the former Miss Marjorie Frances Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Smith of Avon Ln., Spring Valley. The groom was Rurik Leif Kallis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Kallis of Woodland Hills.

Rev. Lewis Swander, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father. The reception for about 50 guests was held in the church social hall.

Maid of honor was Miss Martha Gooden, cousin of the bride. Best man was Richard Pennick, a friend of the groom.

Made of Oriental ecru foulard, the gown was fashioned with close-fitting bodice of pin tucks. It had a high round neck, tucked elbow length sleeves, with a deep ruffle of point d' esprit lace. The floor-length skirt had a front panel of lace that flowed into a deep lace ruffle and chapel train. The skirt was draped over an ecru taffets underskirt with dust ruffle. A wide sash of matching moire ribbon with forman bow completed the gown.

The waist-length wedding veil, was attached to an old-fashioned rosette headpiece of lace. She carried a nosegay of white roses and delphinium, along with a white Bible, a family heirloom.

The maid of honor wore a floor-length gown of Alice blue crepe and carried a bouquet of white carnations and blue ribbons.

The new Mrs. Kallis was a member of the first class to graduate from Mount Miguel High School. She attended Grossmont College and has currently been a medical secretary. She is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Golden, who came from Canada in 1909, and who lived and raised their family at Campo Rd. and Bancroft Dr.

that curricula should be very firm, and that teachers should expand the curriculum if the situation requires.

Probably his philosophy is wrapped up in his theory on readiness versus postponement. He says it is wrong to wait for pupils to catch up as it is done in the readiness concept.

He makes the point that postponing content is in part an outcome of the readiness theory which cautions against giving the pupil too much to do too early. "So it becomes the law that one may not teach readiness in the kindergarten. The Amidon idea repeals this spurious limitation of the teacher's right to teach and the pupil's right to learn," he says.

He became disenchanted years earlier with the rule of no reading for five-year-olds when he observed a four-year old child in a school for the deaf writing words on a blackboard.

"If a four-year-old handicapped by deafness can do this, why not a normal child?" Dr. Hansen asks.

Yet many educators feel that Amidon children are being short-changed on training by missing the more modern concept with emphasis on the arts. One authority says succintly that Amidon is the same basic educational concept that was used in 1925, in a completely different culture.

Travel Pass Aids Tourist

Many winter tourists this year are discovering that they can stretch their vacation dollars farther than ever before, thanks to a unique bargain fare for bus travel.

According to Roger Verbiest, Agent for Greyhound in Lemon Grove, the Greyhound "Discover America" $99 TRAV-L-PASS has made it possible for vacationers who must watch their budgets to travel extensively throughout the United States and Canada.

Verbiest said that with a TRAV-L-PASS a traveler can select a trip to go anywhere over Greyhound's more than 100,000 miles of routes covering more than 40,000 communities. For only $99 he can travel for 99 days anywhere in the United States and Canada, and can stopover for sightseeing wherever and whenever he wants .

He added that the TRAV-L-PASS has proven to be a good buy for many travelers who are not tourists because on many of the longer distance schedules the $99 bargain fare is less than the regular round-trip fares.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

How dare Dr. Padfield, Dr. McCandless and Mr. Walton vote against Mr. Kuykendall and Mr. Jabusch on the La Mesa-Spring Valley School Board! How dare a majority vote against a minority! How dare they represent the people and vote their own conscience when the minority disagrees!

Unbelievable as it sounds, this seems to be the attitude of the minority board members and the administrators in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District. Effort is being made to discredit the three majority members because they dare to differ with the minority.

With this attitude about voting, perhaps Mr. Kuykendall and Mr. Jabusch also feel that their election to office by a small majority was not cricket either. Perhaps the large minority of voters who voted against Kuykendall and Jabusch should object to the vote, if it's so terrible for the majority to differ with the minority. Perhaps the minority voters should not accept this vote result and charge the majority with causing strife and descension in the district, just as Kuykendall and Jabusch are doing on the school board.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Dolores Klippel

Money Management

By Harold R. Glaeser

Most people want to save money but go about it in exactly the wrong way.

Those who really save, save first. They pay themselves first and spend what is left.

Ask yourself this question—If I saved 10% of my pay could I live on the balance? This answer will be Yes—if I really tried. It will not be easy but you will have thousands of dollars the day you retire.

Direct your specific question to Mr. Glaeser in care of this newspaper.

Dear Editor:

This letter is in regards to the School Board and administrators of La Mesa and Spring Valley School District.

To be a school board member, it appears the person has to be a business man and a college man to be selected by different committees of the community.

Now we have business men, lawyers, doctors, veterinarians, and what have you on the board. They are all fighting among their selves like a pack of Wolverines which is in confusion.

Therefore, they can't help neglecting a multi-million dollar school business also holding back progress.

I believe all the school board members are from La Mesa, none from Spring Valley (Fred M. Jabusch lives in Spring Valley.—Ed's note).

Our State Administration says we have a sick school district. I will have to say "Amen" to this statement. Our La Mesa-Spring Valley School Administration are not fulfilling their position, as they are promoting a lot of the confusion and disruption by trying to control the school board.

Another group of people who are promoting this confusion and siruption is a certain group of religious school teachers who are trying to gain control of the school board and administration department. This would bear looking into by the County Grand Jury, the State Department of Investigation of school district troubles.

We have a Junior High school that has been scheduled in Spring Valley three different times. Now they are postponing it again. The school was to be started in Dec. 1965 of Jan 1966.

What is the reason, after spending thousands of dollars on architect work, surveying and other work, we are not getting a Junior High school?

The moral of this letter is if you want confusion and delusion in your school district, elect a group of educated people and you will be amused, confused and deluded.

Sincerely,
Emil Caldwell

Griffins Meet NTC In Non-Conference Contest Friday Eve.

The Grossmont College basketball team takes a break from Pacific Southwest Conference action this week to meet the Naval Training Center Bluejackets in a single game on Friday in the Griffins gym beginning at 8:15 p.m. Grossmont edged NTC earlier in the season by one point.

Coach Bill Gillespie will start Dan Roberson and Paul Landis at the guard spots, Tom Dobransky at center, and Steve Howe and either Tay Finney or Al Ursillo at the forward spots.

Late Rallies

In last week's action the Griffs staged two late rallies, pulling out one win, and coming close in the other, bringing their PSC record to 4-2, good enough for third place at the half-way point of the season, and 11-7 over-all.

They defeated Southwestern, 51-57, after trailing throughout much of the contest. Going into their full court press with a shade over three minutes remaining, the Griffs scored 10 points to the Apaches' two over that period to win the game in the last 12 seconds, on Dobransky's 15 foot jumper.

Similar Tactics

Against San Diego City they used the same tactics, cutting a 10 point Knight lead in half in less than a minute, but could get no closer than the final spread, 78-74.

Landis, who scored 45 points last week, continues to lead the Griffs with 408 points, a 23.5 per game average. He snapped the Grossmont College career scoring mark last week against Southwestern as he registered his 843rd point in the first half to break the old mark of 842 held by Bob Anderson and set during the 1963-64 and 1964-65 season. Landis now has 874 points in his career as a Griff. Both Landis and Anderson prepped at Monte Vista High.

Howe is runner-up in the scoring parade, with 250, and Roberson is third with 169. Howe leads all rebounders with 179, or 1 short of an even 10 per game.

Commissions Offered To Former Aviators

The U. S. Coast Guard is offering direct commissions to qualified former military aviators to meet the requirements of its stepped up aviation programs, Coast Guard Headquarters has announced.

Coast Guard air stations have recently been established at Los Angeles, Houston, Savannah and Astoria, Ore., and a new station is scheduled to open soon at Detroit. Existing stations at Kodiak and Annette Island, Alaska are adding helicopters to their aircraft fleets.

In addition, modern Coast Guard cutters are designed to carry helicopters and a recent agreement transferring five Navy icebreakers to the Coast Guard has added to the pinch. The icebreakers also cary helicopters.

The Coast Guard cited the Cuban patrols and increased flights to inspect for violations of international fisheries agreements as additional reasons for the shortage.

Veteran flying officers interested in becoming Coast Guard aviators should send resume of flight background to Commandant (PTP-2), U. S. Coast Guard, Washington, D. C., 20226. Applicants must be less than 32 years old and be a graduate of a U. S. heavier than air military flight training program.

Slow Drivers Warned By Highway Patrol

Slow drivers cruising in fast lanes on highways and highways face special "attention" from the California Highway Patrol this year in a redoubled effort to keep traffic flowing

Captain Roland Gautsche, commander of the Patrol's San Diego Area, said officers will intensify their enforcement efforts to re-emphasize the requirement of driving in right-hand lanes when traveling at speeds less than the normal flow of traffic.

"Motorists may use the fast line when overtaking and passing other vehicles or when they are preparing to make a left-hand turn," Captain Gautsche stated.

"Obviously when highways are congested, all lanes will be filled, but this is the only other exception," he added.

Pointing out that ideal driving conditions call for a smooth flow of traffic, the Patrol Commander said this is easily interrupted when slow drivers poke along in fast lanes. This causes other drivers to make unsafe lane changes when they move around them, often leading to serious or fatal accidents.

'Hometown Newspapers' Is Legion Auxiliary Project

Mrs. Frank Anderson, National Security Chairman of La Mesa Unit No. 282, American Legion Auxiliary has announced that the Auxiliary, in cooperation with the Department of Defense will furnish soldiers now fighting in Viet Nam with their hometown newspapers if they request it.

She said that an announcement first appeared in the mid-November issue of the Stars and Stripes, Pacific edition, telling the service men in Viet Nam that if they want to receive the paper from home, members of the American Legion Auxiliary would make the necessary arrangements for a subscription for them. The response has been good, Mrs. Anderson said. The La Mesa Unit has subscribed to three papers to be sent to three local service men and more will be send as requested.

"Our boys are homesick, and if the paper will brighten a part of their day, it certainly will be worth the effort made by members of the American Legion Auxiliary" Mrs. Anderson said.

Mrs. Harry Winston, Community Service Chairman of La Mesa Unit said that members will supervise the activities at the La Mesa Community Welfare Thrift Shop during the last two weeks of January. Volunteers are needed.

A storage tank that can hold enough gasoline to fill the tanks of 542,000 automobiles was completed recently in New Jersey.

Total employment in the San Diego labor market area reached a new all-time high of 329,800 in December.

Beer Consumption

Beer consumption has nearly doubled in California over the past 20 years. In 1945, total consumption of the beverage of moderation amounted to 5.1 million barrels. Last year, in 1965, the figure reached 9.5 million barrels.
